Pontoon treasurer debate

Pontoon Beach Village Board President Floyd David Moss Thursday night threatened to dismiss the village treasurer, Loretta Skinner, of her duties, alleging she did not follow all of the provisions of a state law requiring her to swear under oath that her monthly treasurer's reports are accurate.

The move was seen by some observers as retaliation against her husband, Duane Skinner, who was among the village trustees who passed a resolution asking for Moss's resignation at the previous meeting two weeks earlier.

Village resident, Freeman Cindard initiated the action, submitting a letter to the board for permission to address the village trustees. Moss granted him permission.

Cindard cited provisions of the village's ordinance number one and state law on the duties of the treasurer, and contended she had not been meeting all of the provisions of the state law which he says requires her to swear to the accuracy of each monthly report.

The village attorney, Paul Guzzardo, declined to advise Moss on whether a statute had been violated, telling him only to look at the statute which was placed before him.

Moss then announced he was going to ask for the removal of Mrs. Skinner from the $250 per month treasurer position. A 10-minute recess was called and the board met in a back room. Trustees Skinner, Don Rea and Paul Bennett failed to return to the meeting after the recess and the meeting was halted for lack of quorum.

Trustee Raymond Gaudette Jr. was absent for both portions of the meeting.

An examination of village records Friday showed that Mrs. Skinner had filed a signed report each month with the village clerk. The reports have not been signed by the president and the trustees, as required by law, since 1973. Mrs. Skinner became treasurer in 1975.

Some observers feel she complied with the requirements of Ordinance One which specify, "The treasurer shall make monthly reports to the Board of Trustees showing the state of finances of the village, and the amounts received and spent during the month, which reports shall be filed."

It is felt by some that the ousting of Mrs. Skinner may be the first attempt by Moss supporters to overturn a 4-3 split in power on the seven-member village board in which Trustees Skinner, Rea, Bennett and Gaudette have been winning all important votes despite opposition from Moss and Trustees Loren Madison and Keith Biggs.

Duane Skinner, contacted Friday, said he and his wife have consulted with their private attorney and feel Mrs. Skinner has complied with both the village and the state law. "We contend she took her oath of office when she started as treasurer and therefore, her signing of the monthly reports constitutes verifying, under oath, that the figures are accurate," Skinner explained.

There also is a legal question whether Moss has the authority to fire a village official without concurrence by the village board. A recent resolution requires village board approval on all hirings and may legally be construed to pertain to firings, it was contended.

Moss was not available to explain his wording, "I am going to ask for the removal of Mrs. Skinner as treasurer."

Skinner concluded, "As far as we are concerned, there has been no official action and my wife is still the village treasurer."

Boy, 17, shot in chase by police

A 17-year-old Madison boy was shot in the upper right leg by Venice police, who said he was attempting to run away from three truck burglaries at the Specter Transportation Co. lot between Collinsville Avenue and Market Street at Madison Avenue at 1:40 a.m. Saturday. Joseph Woods, 17, of 83 Garesche Homes, Madison, suffered a bullet wound to his leg when he failed to heed the warning of a Venice officer to stop, officers said.

He was one of three Madison youths arrested—each charged with three counts of burglary. The others charged are Donald E. "Chubby" Long, 19, of 55 Grenzer Homes, and Andrew Ellis, 17, of 103 Garesche Homes.

Liquor license control sought

An ordinance reducing the number of liquor licenses in Pontoon Beach from eight to two was presented to the Pontoon Beach Village Board Thursday night and is to be acted upon at the next meeting.

The effect of the ordinance is not known, but some village officials feel it will give the board of trustees the power to approve the issuing of all liquor licenses by Floyd David Moss, president of the village board who also is the village's liquor control commissioner.

The ordinance, prepared by Village Attorney Paul Guzzardo, contains no provisions for more than two licenses—two Class A and one club license—even by board action. It is doubtful the ordinance could be used to revoke any existing licenses.

It amends the village's prior liquor license ordinances only by reducing the maximum number of licenses.

One official expressed the opinion the ordinance was designed to reduce Moss' power to issue a license to anyone he wants when one becomes available, but another official indicated he feels the ordinance would have the effect of taking the power to issue licenses away from both Moss and the board, until the number of active licenses reached zero in either class.

The ordinance was read by Pontoon Beach Village Clerk Mary Warren and received a motion to adopt and a second, but Moss said he did not feel the board had to vote on it.

Mrs. Warren asked Moss if he was going to call for a vote, but Moss said he felt the ordinance was only being placed on first reading and a vote was not necessary.

Guzzardo did not express an opinion on whether a vote is required on first reading of a

Shaw is president finalist—Ruffner temporary head

Andrew J. Kochman resigned Thursday as acting president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, saying he had been advised by the Presidential Search Committee that it was the unanimous decision of the committee not to recommend his name to the Board of Trustees as a candidate for president.

Dr. Kochman, who previously had served as vice-president and provost, said it is his intention to seek reassignment as a member of the faculty of the School of Fine Arts and Communications.

The Board of Trustees accepted the resignations and named Ralph W. Ruffner, senior vice-president for planning and review, to the position of acting president. The board also received the recommendations of three candidates for president submitted by the Search Committee. The final candidates are Richard Fontana, Robert Maier and Kenneth Shaw.

The names were submitted without order of preference, in accordance with the request of the Board of Trustees. Shaw is a native of Granite City.

Board Chairman Ivan A. Elliott Jr. said the board will interview the candidates with the objective of making the final selection and presidential appointment as soon as practical, following intensive board investigation.

Election campaign heats up

By WALTER STRANGE, Press-Record Staff Writer

The pace of campaign activity accelerated during the weekend as major candidates made appearances in this region before cheering crowds.

President Gerald Ford, Republican nominee, assailed Democrat Jimmy Carter in a whistle-stop before a large and shivering crowd in Alton Saturday evening, after arriving 80 minutes late, and Sen. Walter Mondale, Democratic vice-presidential nominee, attacked the GOP record on unemployment in a talk Saturday afternoon at Fairview Heights.

With Sen. Mondale were Alan Dixon, secretary of state nominee and current state treasurer; Congressmen Melvin Price and Paul Simon; and Madison County Democratic Chairman Nelson Hagauer.

State Representative Everett G. Steele was among those greeting the Ford campaign train at Alton.

Last night, over 700 Democrats attended the annual John F. Kennedy dinner dance sponsored by the Madison County Democratic Central Committee.

Cong. Price and Secretary of State Michael Howlett, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, were the principal speakers at Sunday's gathering, held in Meridian Hall at SIUE.

The event was organized by Hagauer and by Sam Wolf, secretary-treasurer of the county Democratic organization.

Speaking first, Price said, "We are hearing a lot about how each party is going to help our country. We have problems in inflation, unemployment and with our position as a world leader."

"Leadership of the American people is what this election is all about. As was the case in 1976, so it is now in 1976 the people want a strong leader."

"We need a change and that change should start at the top" (Continued on Page 4)

Thomas-Mercer merger completed

The merger of Mercer Mortuary and Bob Thomas Memorial Mortuary was completed Friday and Mercer Mortuary will continue operating under the Mercer name as a division of the Bob Thomas Memorial Mortuary, Robert H. Thomas announced today.

The merger also includes ambulance services, which will operate from both locations under the Thomas Ambulance name.

Thomas will operate the primary emergency ambulance service in Granite City, Philip Thebeau, operator of EMT Ambulance Service, closed his doors to business Saturday.

In announcing the merger of the two mortuaries, Thomas said that the merger was reaching the age of retirement and the Thomas family having a large interest in its holdings, the two families met and concluded that the merger would be for the betterment of the community.

"Both the Thomas and Mercer families have been distinguished in the funeral profession of this community for many years."

"Each mortuary will continue to operate and serve the community in the same distinguished and traditional manner," Thomas concluded.

He said the Thomas ambulance service will operate three emergency vehicles and one convalence vehicle 24 hours a day, with plans to expand that number in the near future.

The closing of EMT Ambulance Service reduces the number of emergency ambulances available in Granite City by two.

The late Mr. Thomas directed the operation of Mercer Mortuary, 1416 Niedringhaus Ave., for many years prior to his death and became a partner in the Mercer operation.

Both facilities are to be operated with few staff or personnel changes and the present time, Thomas said.

Minutes later, officers were informed gunshots had been fired at Farley's home and Gray's pickup truck was stopped at 20th Street and Missouri Avenue, a .38 caliber pistol with five shells discharged was found inside the truck. The gun smelled as though it had been fired recently, police alleged.

After charging Gray, police took him to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was admitted for cuts and bruises and discoloration to his face and around an eye. Sutures and x-rays were administered.

MR. AND MRS. STANLEY MERTZ. They exchanged vows at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, in an evening ceremony. Formerly Miss Kathleen Anne Brave, the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Brave, 3027 Mockingbird Lane.

Kathleen Brave marries Stanley Oliver Mertz

Gold pedestals holding arrangements of green gladioli, peacock blue and ivory carnations interspersed with greenery adorned the altar at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, for the wedding on Oct. 8 of Miss Kathleen Anne Brave, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Brave, 3027 Mockingbird Lane and Stanley Oliver Mertz, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman R. Mertz, 1632 Mason Road, St. Louis.

Burning tapers in tiered candelabra illuminated the sanctuary and white carpeted aisle for the double ring ceremony performed at 7:30 p.m. by the Rev. Robert L. Kettelhut.

Organist E. Alan Wood accompanied Mrs. Gail Mueller as she sang, "The Lord's Prayer" and "The Wedding Song."

The bride is the fourth generation of her family to be married on Oct. 8. Her great-grandparents, Louis Buehner and Mary Huebner were married on Oct. 8, 1889; her grandparents, Louis Willardt and Amelia Buehner were wed on Oct. 8, 1912 and her parents, Robert L. Brave and Ruth M. A. Willardt exchanged vows on Oct. 8, 1944.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride, chose a long ivory silk sate-peau gown fashioned in a princess silhouette style. Nottingham and Belgium lace accented the high neckline and narrow scallop collar and also formed a bib effect on the bodice.

The decorative lace, etched with pearls, created the long sleeves which terminated at the wrists with lace ruffles.

Her full circular skirt was appliqued with the jeweled motifs and repeated on the hemline and cathedral length train.

She wore a camelot headpiece of Nottingham lace and pearls to secure a melody length veil also bordered in matching lace.

The bridal bouquet was a crescent arrangement of ivory cymbidium orchids, peacock blue velvet bows and streamers.

Matron of honor Mrs. Chris Melcho of Mattoon, Ill., a sister of the bride, selected a kerry green nylon over crepe chiana full length dress.

Soft folds fell softly from a diamond shaped inset at the front of the Empire waist to fashion an A-line skirt.

Bracelet length bell sleeves in a floral print nylon in peacock blue and kerry green were set into the fitted bodice designed with a V-neckline.

Mrs. Diana Miller of Granite City served as bridesmaid and wore an identical gown in peacock blue.

Both attendants wore camelot headpieces in matching fabric and held cascade bouquets of ivory and peacock blue carnations, ivy and green cymbidium orchids.

Karen Melcho, a niece of the bride, served as the flower girl. She wore a frock featuring a print bib on the bodice made with short flared sleeves and the full gathered skirt was in blue. She carried flower petals in a basket which the bride carried 25 years ago when she was a flower girl.

The groom chose his nephew, Terry Mertz, as best man. Nicholas Miller served as groomsman and Michael Melcho, the bride's brother-in-law and Kelly Mertz, a nephew of the groom, seated the guests.

Miss Kittie Weber, a niece of the groom, presided over the guest book at a reception held at Sunset Hills Country Club, Edwardsville, immediately following the service.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Brave selected a formal beige knit gown and wore a brown cymbidium orchid corsage. The groom's mother, was attired in a blue and white brocade floor length dress, and her corsage was a lavender calatya orchid.

A graduate of Granite City High School, the former Miss Brave also graduated from the University of Illinois with a B.S. degree in food science. She is presently employed as technical counselor with the 7-Up Co. in St. Louis.

The groom attended Parkway High School, Chesterfield, Mo. and the Milwaukee School of Engineering. He has been employed at Banner Iron Works, St. Louis and will begin working as a maintenance engineer at the Standard Brake Shoe Co. in Memphis, Tenn. on Nov. 1.

After a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination the newly married couple will reside in Memphis, Tenn.

and put Jimmy Carter in the White House.

"Republicans have had eight years to do something, but did you know that average earnings are lower today than they were at the end of the Kennedy-Johnson era?" Price asked.

"Since 1968, the American worker has learned there are a lot of things he can't afford anymore. One of the things Americans cannot afford is the mismanagement of our government."

"We need to create jobs, not veto them. There are seven and a half million unemployed. That is 7.9 per cent of our working force, and a bill that would have created 500,000 jobs was vetoed; $16 million in tax revenue is lost for each percentage point of unemployment, and that is a lot of money," Price asserted.

"Our foreign policy, or I should say lack of one, should cause concern to all of us. If we have had a foreign policy since 1971, it has been a better kept secret than Pres. Eisenhower's golf scores."

"I, for one, get real nervous when we have a president who does not have a firm grasp on the facts, such as when he tells us that Eastern Europe is not under Communist domination."

"A Democratic victory won't solve our problems overnight, but it will get us back on the right track. Democrats stand for the people, and the people will put Carter in the White House and Mike Howlett in the governor's mansion in Springfield," Price concluded his remarks to a standing ovation.

Chairman Hagauer in introducing Howlett said, "It was my privilege to second Mike Howlett's nomination for governor in Chicago and it is a real pleasure to introduce him to all his friends here in Madison County."

"My opponent hired an advertising agency to teach him how to run for governor," Howlett said. "They told him not to wear a tie outside of Chicago, so he doesn't. They told him he should be an animal lover, so he bought a dog. But to insult to injury, he wanted to buy an Irish setter," Howlett quipped.

"Now, you can teach a man how to run for office, but not how to be a governor — as that takes experience. I have had that experience as your state auditor and secretary of state."

"I want to say right now that there will be no tax increase in the next two years, unless it is over my veto."

"Should a tax increase happen despite my veto, I will run for governor again. My opponent has been silent on this issue."

"My first priority is education and there will be total funding of education in the state of Illinois when I am elected governor. I am going to work to override a recent $12 million veto for salaries of our college and university personnel."

"This is going to be a Democratic year. The people have had enough and the people will put a stop to mismanagement. And we'll work on getting the 400,000 unemployed in Illinois back to work," Howlett asserted.

"We're going to see that Illinois gets its fair share of federal funds."

"We are the fifth largest state in population and 43rd on the list of federal monies received. With Jimmy Carter and Mel Price in Washington, we're going to go up to about fifth, where we should be, in the receipt of federal funds."

"The newspapers are trying to get a Republican elected. I could go down to the shore of the Chicago River, take off my shoes and walk on water and the press would headline it, 'Mike Howlett can swim!'"

"But I am here to tell you television can't vote, a radio can't vote, money can't vote and a newspaper can't vote; only people vote, and the people are going to vote Democratic," the candidate for governor joked.

Secretaries enroll 57

Granite City Mayor, Paul Schuler, was the keynote speaker at the 6th annual initiation and installation ceremony of the Granite City Future Secretaries Association held at the Central Christian Church, Fellowship Hall. The Granite City Chapter, with its present membership of 87, has the distinction of being one of the largest chapters in Illinois, with one-tenth of the state FSA membership concentrated in the local chapter.

Over 120 were present to witness the initiation of 57 new members, and the installation of 1977 officers. Those elected were president, Mary Winfield; vice president, Elaine Goetting; corresponding secretary, Lisa Camp; recording secretary, Lisa St. Cin; treasurer, Kathleen DeRuntz; and board members at large, Lisa Mitchell and Donna Burke.

This year's officers were installed by past FSA President, Nancy Bezan, now employed full-time at Lindsay Construction Co., and past FSA recording secretary, Kathy Jones, who now works in the offices of Sherwood Medical Industries.

President Gail Foley encouraged the FSA members to think ahead towards the future, and consider NSA membership as one of their goals. Mothers with secretarial jobs were also invited to have an active part in the local NSA professional organization, which is in the midst of a membership drive.

In Mayor Schuler's presentation, "Good Citizenship and You," he commented on the necessity of good secretaries in the office, and good citizens in the community.

Federal policies penalize Illinois despite state's generosity to poor

The federal government should take over most state welfare costs, Michael J. Howlett, Democratic candidate for governor, said last week.

He said that gradually federalizing costs of the Aid to Families of Dependent Children (AFDC) program would free three-quarters of a billion dollars to pay for programs to meet human needs and to relieve pressures for an increase in state taxes.

Shifting these costs is a long-range goal. It is compatible with the short-range financial stability plan I have proposed to pay for vital state programs without any tax increases.

"Calling present welfare regulations 'an administrative nightmare,' Howlett said that 'simplifying the entire network of welfare assistance programs is badly needed to end the welfare mess. Present rules are so complicated and inconsistent, it is difficult to determine eligibility.'

Howlett said the present program of federal-state cost sharing of AFDC penalizes Illinois.

"While we have been losing jobs and industry to the 'sunbelt' states, the poor and destitute have been coming north to Illinois, where welfare benefits are higher," said Howlett.

"Yet, under current federal standards, states paying the highest benefits receive the smallest percentage of federal reimbursements."

"The figures tell the story. In Illinois, where federal and state governments share the cost 50-50, an AFDC family of four receives $267 or $317 a month, depending on where they live.

"This is higher than Indiana's $250 maximum or Missouri's $208 maximum, and much higher than Mississippi's ceiling of only $48.96."

"But while Mississippi pays only 22 per cent of the cost, Illinois pays 50 per cent."

"Recent studies show that 41.5 per cent of Illinois AFDC recipients were born in Illinois, 8.5 per cent came from nearby states, and 36 per cent came from Southern states."

"Illinois citizens pay more for welfare because our benefits are a magnet for residents of other states and the federal cost-sharing formula discriminates against us."

"To remedy, this the federal government should gradually assume full responsibility for public welfare costs.

"There should be an equitable, uniform standard for needy Americans, wherever they live. The dollar amount of basic benefits should be adjusted for regional cost-of-living differences."

Howlett said that by the last fiscal year, ended June 30, Illinois paid $734 million to AFDC recipients. The figure for fiscal 1977 is expected to be about $760 million.

"In AFDC, as in other forms of welfare, both the taxpayers and the recipients suffer from the complexity of laws, regulations and court orders resulting from administration and financing at different levels of government.

"If uniform standards of assistance at reasonable levels were fixed for all states, it would not be necessary for poor families in poorer states to move to Illinois for a decent subsistence."

"The Democratic party platform calls for 'an income floor both for the working poor and the poor not in the labor market' and a 'phased' reduction in the state's share of welfare costs."

Howlett said that by federalizing AFDC costs, the state could use the added funds for education, literacy training, job training, day care facilities and other human needs.

"Federalizing welfare costs is part of a long-range plan to improve the state's fiscal health. I have already outlined plans to stimulate economic development, create jobs and use our projected revenue growth to pay for increased aid to education."

"By carefully combining these programs, we can ensure that people in need are adequately cared for without increasing state taxes."

Partee urges more court appearances

Democratic attorney general candidate Cecil A. Partee has criticized his Republican opponent, Attorney General William J. Scott, for failing to take court action to combat auto-repair fraud in Illinois.

Partee said he was "neither shocked nor astounded by testimony from the chief of Scott's Consumer Fraud and Protection Division revealing that Scott's office has not taken court action in a single one of the nearly 2,000 complaints filed this year by citizens who feel they have been 'ripped off' by auto-repair shops."

"It is a do-little office," he contended. "This is incredible." Partee said, "especially considering that the attorney general's budget has soared by over 80 per cent in the eight years Mr. Scott has held the office."

"That's the latest evidence that he is not doing the job he was elected to do is but another dramatic example of how he places more emphasis on press releases than on performance."

"As I have said throughout my campaign, it is time to elect an attorney general who is a good attorney and is willing, as I am, to go to court personally and battle for Illinois citizens."

"That's exactly what I did for eight years when I served as assistant state's attorney for Cook County. We had a Consumer Fraud and Complaint Division that fought for consumers instead of ignoring them as the incumbent attorney general does."

Saying that Howard Kaufman, chief of Scott's Consumer Fraud and Protection Division, testified at a public hearing that he prefers to handle complaints within his office, Partee commented.

"A private, comfortable state office, far from public scrutiny and the light of day, is just not the place to be representing consumer interests. It leaves too much room for deals and cover-up of poor performance and inaction."

"The courtroom is the proper arena. That's where ripoff artists and others who are cheating Illinois citizens should get their come-uppance."

"Mr. Scott's court work in the pollution field is almost nonexistent."

"He hasn't published an updated inheritance tax manual in six years."

"He simply is not performing his job."

SIU will apply for new U.S. fund program

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees adopted a resolution Thursday granting authority to the presidents of SIU at Edwardsville and SIU at Carbondale to prepare applications for federal grants under the Local Public Works Capital Development and Investment Program signed into law by President Gerald Ford earlier this month.

The authority granted by the board pertains to projects previously approved by the board by specific action or included in the SIU capital budget.

University officers said they anticipate applications will be processed for remodeling of the Alton facility of SIUE at an estimated cost of $255,000 and for three projects at the Carbondale campus: Parkinson laboratory rehabilitation, $2,233,000; Energy Conservation Project, System 7, estimated at $250,000; and Recreation Building construction, Phase II, estimated at $4 million.

All but the request for funds for the recreation facility are projects included in Illinois Capital Development Board appropriation bills and subsequently vetoed by Gov. Daniel Walker. The recreation facility grant would provide funding for those parts of the building that were bid, but deleted at the time of contract award due to lack of funds.

Hearing on new child care rules

Citizens will have the opportunity to express their views on proposed new licensing standards for child care facilities at a public hearing Thursday in East St. Louis. Director Mary Lee Leiby of the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services has announced.

The hearing, one of eight scheduled throughout the state, will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the conference room of the State Regional Office Building, 10 Collinsville Ave.

The proposed standards spell out regulations for child welfare agencies, institutions, group homes and foster family homes. These standards must be met before a license is issued by the DCF. Licenses are valid for two years from the date they are issued.

"Illinois law requires facilities providing or arranging for full-time care of children outside their own home to be licensed by the department," Mrs. Leiby said.

Standards cover qualifications of personnel; types of programs and services to be provided; health and safety conditions in the child care facility; and records that must be kept to insure maximum protection for children.

"There are 74 child welfare agencies, 96 institutions, 59 group homes and 11,785 foster homes—including 1,726 licensed for adoption—currently licensed by the department. About 20 per cent of the foster homes are under private agency auspices."

The proposed standards were drawn up by a 50-member task force of representatives of each type of facility licensed by the department, various sectarian and non-sectarian groups, the Child Care Association of Illinois, the Illinois Commission on Children, the Illinois Foster Parent Association and other organizations throughout the state.

Dr. Robert Weagant of the School of Social Work, University of Illinois, Urbana, is committee chairman.

Copies of the proposed standards were distributed in August to child care providers for review and comment.

Other interested persons may review the proposed standards at each of the hearing sites or may obtain a copy by writing the Licensing Unit, Program Support Services, DCF, 625 E. Adams St., Springfield, Ill. 62706.

In drafting the standards, task force members said they wanted them to be "specific, understandable, realistic, necessary, equally applicable and not so stringent that they would discourage the development and operation of child care facilities."

Some of the changes proposed in the new standards would:

1. Require every child care facility, regardless of auspices (public or private), to meet licensing standards.
2. Upgrade and make more specific the educational and experience requirements for staff of agencies, institutions and group homes.
3. Specifically spell out rules for disciplining, punishing and controlling children and prohibit delegation of disciplining a child to another youngster.
4. Strengthen the ratio of staff to children cared for in institutions.
5. Require foster parents to be at least 21 years old and other members of the foster family to be willing to share their home with foster children.

6. Streamline and clearly define requirements for admission and care of children and the termination of care by the care providers, guardians and referring agencies.

7. Require child welfare agencies and institutions to maintain and keep all records—financial and otherwise—in Illinois where they will be readily available for licensing review.

8. Require the bonding of officers and other fiscally responsible employees of child welfare agencies.

The department plans to file the regulations with the secretary of state's office later this fall.

They take effect 10 days after filing.

Current licensed facilities will have one year to comply with them. All facilities not yet licensed must comply with the new requirements before they are licensed.

Injuries, defeat near North's football contest with DeSmet High St. Louis DeSmet High School dealt GCHS North a defeat Saturday night at Granite City Stadium, the third in three meetings between the two schools in recent years. DeSmet won 14-6, inflicting North's first setback after five victories this fall.

Quarter scores were DeSmet 0-7, 7-4 and 14-6.

Dale Feltmeyer, 6-0, 225-pound senior tackle, suffered an injury in the neck area while assisting in tackling a DeSmet runner near the end of the game.

Thrown to St. Elizabeth Hospital by ambulance and then transferred to Frimlin Desloge Hospital (Room 806), St. Louis, Feltmeyer has a possible cervical fracture or fractures involving the second, third and fourth vertebrae.

He had been able to get up and walk away after the play but then collapsed on the field.

The Steelers got on the scoreboard first, with a touchdown with 3:11 left in the first half.

Starting from its own 20, North utilized the running skills of Fred Clay, Mike Sherman and James Simpson to move in 10 plays to the Spartans 14-yard marker.

From there, Quarterback Greg Corey hit Keith Atkins with a pass in the end zone. The point-after kick failed to find its mark and North led 6-0.

With 34 seconds left before halftime, DeSmet after intercepting a North pass at the Spartan 30 capped a 70-yard drive with Quarterback Jim Klein dashing four yards into the end zone.

Dave Calcaterra provided the extra-point boot for a 7-6 lead.

After taking the second half kickoff at its 10-yard line, North moved out to the 21 on carries by Clay and Sherman before a fumble resulted in DeSmet taking possession.

Three plays later, DeSmet was at the five-yard marker. After two defensive efforts by North which resulted in no gains, Dave Dollar charged in for a touchdown. Calcaterra's kick was good for the 14-6 score.

North was stopped twice in the latter part of the game on sustained drives, once at DeSmet's 22 and again at the 26, both times on pass interceptions.

The final period of play produced injuries to two Steelers.

With 6:31 remaining, Clay took a snap from center at his 20 and carried to the 24, where he was downed and suffered leg injuries on the tackle. They were not regarded as serious.

Feltmeyer suffered his injury while stopping a DeSmet runner at North's 31-yard line with slightly more than two minutes to play.

DeSmet dominated the ground play, gaining 265 yards rushing to North's 111. The Spartans had 20 first downs to North's 11.

Corey completed nine passes in 21 attempts for 21 yards, and Klein had one completion in five tries for 12 yards.

Team penalties were: DeSmet four for 30 yards and North three for 25 yards.

Sherman hauled in the most Corey passes, four for 53 yards, and Clay gained identical yardage, 53, on the ground in 10 carries.

For DeSmet, Dave Dollar had 86 yards rushing and Mark Daniels 80, and Klein scrambled for 84 yards.

Warriors block kick and scap Kahoks 28-27 in overtime

Warrior Dan Stanton, a 6-2, 189-pound senior, blocked a Collinsville placement kick Friday night in Granite City Stadium, giving GCHS South a 28-27 victory over the Kahoks in overtime.

The contest was decided in the tiebreaker period, with each side taking four turns in attempts to score from the 10-yard line.

The score was tied 7-7 at the end of the first quarter, and Collinsville went ahead 21-10 at the half. The 21-21 tie was achieved on a 37-yard Tim Kirksey field goal with 1:01 left in the third period.

Collinsville won the toss but elected to defend the goal in the overtime period.

Quarterback Keith Champion handed the ball to Cliff Moran for a three-yard gain and then again to Moran for the go-ahead TD. Kirksey's point-after kick gave the Warriors a 28-21 lead.

On the first play from scrimmage in Collinsville's portion of the overtime, Quarterback Jay Dowling pitched out to Willie Ahart, who executed a halfback option with an aerial to Doug Albrecht in Collinsville's end zone.

Stanton then rushed through the Kahok line to block the punt and provide a one-point victory for South High.

Collinsville, after taking a Granite City punt at the Warrior 28, had capped the short drive with a nine-yard TD run by Ahart. Ron Dickerson providing the seventh point on a kick with 7:18 left in the opening quarter.

Taking the ensuing kickoff at its 34, South on carries by Jay Heubner, Moran and Champion gained 12 yards but was forced to punt on fourth down.

Dana Wallace hurried downfield with the ball to recover a fumble by Collinsville at its 35 on the kickoff reception.

Four plays later, the Warriors were at the Kahok five and then they moved to the two. From there, Heubner carried the ball across. Kirksey tied the contest at 7-7 with a placement kick.

Early in the second period,

Kahok Ahart put the icing on a 7-yard drive with a two-yard TD dash. Dickerson made his kick good for a 14-7 lead with 10:21 left.

Holding South on downs, Collinsville blocked a Warrior punt. It was picked up by Jimmy Walker for a 14-yard TD return with 9:04 left in the half. The extra-point boot made it 21-7.

South took the following kick at its 30 and began a sustained drive in 15 plays to Collinsville's 11-yard-line.

On fourth down, Kirksey provided a 25-yard field goal with 1:59 left for a 21-10 halftime score.

The second-half kickoff to Collinsville resulted in Dave Thornton recovering a Kahok fumble at the opponents' 26.

South got a TD with 8:47 to play in the third period on a 15-yard pass from Champion to Tim Anderson in the end zone.

Heubner ran two yards for the conversion, cutting Collinsville's lead to three, 21-18.

With 6:31 remaining in the third period, and with Collinsville in possession at Granite City's 42, Paul Evans fell on a Kahok fumble to set up the score-tying drive.

Following losses of first one yard and then six, Champion hit Anderson with a pass for a 45-yard gain.

Consecutive ground gains placed the ball at the five-yard line, but a clipping penalty moved the Warriors back 15 yards.

Kirksey kicked a 37-yard field goal with 1:01 left in the quarter for a 21-21 score.

Neither team was able to move near the enemy goal in the fourth quarter.

Collinsville held the edge on first downs, 12-10, and rushing yardage 191-132, but South gained more yardage in the air, 60-27.

Moran was South's leading runner with 24 carries for 87 yards, and Anderson hauled in two passes for 60 yards.

Pioneers overcome grid Trojans, 22-8

Madison High School's venture Saturday afternoon to Pioneer territory at East St. Louis, Assumption resulted in the Trojans losing their sixth straight game this season, 22-8.

Assumption scored twice in the first quarter and twice again in the third period before Madison got on the scoreboard in the final period. Quarter scores were 10-0, 10-0 and 22-0.

The Trojans took the game-opening kickoff but had to punt it away after failing to gain necessary yardage on downs.

Starting from its own 23, Assumption moved in 16 plays to Madison's 24, from where Frank Gavlick provided a field goal with 2:10 left in the period for a 3-0 lead.

Starting from its 20, Madison began its ensuing series of downs, moving to the 30. But Joe Pichocinski's aerial was picked off by Assumption at Madison's 45.

Quarterback Mike Harrison then hit Eric Wright with a 55-yard pass play for six points with 21 seconds remaining in the quarter. Gavlick's point after boot made the score 10-0.

Second-quarter action was a defensive battle between the two teams, each taking turns punting the ball away on fourth down.

Assumption early in the second half tried a 30-yard field goal but the attempt failed to provide points.

Then, with 5:19 remaining in the third period after Assumption held Madison on downs, the Trojans took possession on their 34.

Reggie McKinney immediately rammed 64 yards to the end zone. Tom Baker followed the best finish for South, 20th with a time of 15:59.

Minutes later, Assumption recovered a Trojan fumble at Madison's 45.

After moving to the three, the Pioneers gave the ball to Wright, who carried it in. Again, the kick failed, leaving the score at 10-0.

For score at 22-0.

Madison's fourth-quarter TD was the end result of an Assumption fumble recovered by Duane Bochanin at the Pioneer 20 with 8:05 left to play.

Pichocinski moved the ball to the Pioneer six to gain yardage on downs and then handed off to Earnest Davenport for two more yards.

Bochanin gained a yard on a carry and then Pichocinski swept around right and for three yards TD with 4:04 left.

The Madison signal-caller hit Davenport in the end zone with a two-point conversion pass.

Tie with Greenville

The SIUE women's field hockey team battled Greenville College to a 1-1 deadlock last week on the Cougars' field. The Cougar record increased to 1-1-2 for the season.

Greenville struck first but SIUE battled back as its right inner Jo Brooks put the ball into the net. Within an official ruled that an SIUE player had obstructed, the goal was nullified.

The Cougars tied it at 1-1 in the second period as SIUE's center forward, Kathy Going, dribbled the ball into the scoring circle and passed off to left inner Jane O'Laughlin, who blasted a high-looping shot into the goal.

MAINTAINING CONTROL of the ball Saturday despite double-team efforts by Quincy Notre Dame defenders is Granite City High School South's Rick Becherer, in the white shirt, as teammate Mark Goldschmidt (7) guards against the ball being deflected the wrong way.

15th South win 3-0 over Notre Dame

Warrior soccer player David Goldschmidt kicked his 21st goal of the season Saturday morning as GCHS South beat visiting Quincy Notre Dame 3-0. South now has a 15-1-1 record.

Goldschmidt was the first South player to score, assisted by Rick Becherer, with 5:50 left in the first quarter.

Greg Feigl added to the score with 7:38 left in the second period on a assist by Rick Fernandez.

And with one second remaining in the game, Fred Schuler put the ball into the net, assisted by Mark Goldschmidt.

South Goalkeeper Barry Briggs was credited with stopping two of Quincy's five shots on goal from scoring. South attempted to score 21 times.

Cornerkicks were: South eight, Quincy none. Quincy committed the most fouls, 15-11.

GC golfers 7th in district meet

GCHS North and GCHS South tied for seventh place Friday, each with 354 strokes, in district competition at Wood River's Belk Park 18-hole par 72 course. The district was won by Edwardsville with a 316 score.

With only the top three teams and top three scoring individuals who are not members of the qualifying teams advancing to sectional play at Edwardsville Friday, Oct. 22, Alton placed second with 325 and O'Fallon third with 331.

Schools finishing in order behind the three qualifiers were: Wood River 343, Collinsville 348, Bethalto 350, North and South East St. Louis 358, and Highland and Roxana tied with 361 scores.

Alton's Dave Hopkins took top individual honors with a 75 and Edwardsville's Rich Jarrett shot a 76.

Scoring for North's Steelers were Dan Harper with 83, Russ Chappell Jr. 88, George Bartz 90 and Mike Cella, 93.

For South's Warriors, Benny Brown and Bob Filer each had 86, Herman Schroeder 89 and Al Collins, 93.

An organizational meeting of Granite City Park District basketball league representatives will be held Thursday at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin Avenues, starting at 7:30 p.m.

The park district basketball program is set to start next month, with four leagues fielding teams — Church, Classic, High School and Women's League.

Woman archer is successful hunter

Mrs. Larry (Phyllis) Lane, 3240 Wayne Ave., is the proud owner of a 135-pound three-point deer that she killed with a bow and arrow while on a hunting trip with her husband at Devil's Kitchen near Crab Orchard Lake in Southern Illinois.

"It's the first for me," Mrs. Lane said.

"We had been there about a week, during which time I had attempted several shots. But none of the other arrows connected with a target."

She relates that a 42-pound bow was utilized. After striking the deer, she trailed it 250 yards before hauling it into camp on a trail motorcycle.

Mrs. Lane beams that during the entire week, her husband never had an opportunity to shoot at such a target.

Warriors beat soccer Kahoks

Warrior soccer player David Goldschmidt recovered sufficiently from a weekend leg injury to score two goals Thursday afternoon, his 19th and 20th of the season, as GCHS South proceeded to defeat host Collinsville 3-2.

It marked the second time this season that South has beaten the capable Kahoks. On Sept. 20, South won 1-0.

South carried the action to Collinsville's side of the field, attempting to score 18 times while the Kahoks had eight opportunities to score.

Warrior goalie Barry Briggs stopped two Collinsville shots from entering the net and the opposing goalkeeper blocked five. South executed five cornerkicks to Collinsville's two and Mike Cella, 93.

Gymnastics instruction

The Granite City Park District will conduct registration sessions today, beginning at five o'clock, for area boys and girls desiring to learn gymnastics at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin Avenues.

SIUE defeats SIUC in women's tennis meet

The surprising women's tennis team of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville defeated its sister school, SIUC at Carbondale, 5-4 in a dual meet last week on the Cougars' courts.

The meet ran Coach Kent DeMars' Cougar netters' season record to 3-0 and was the women Salukis' first loss in 19 matches.

The Cougars, who had placed fourth in the Illinois Women's Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament the previous weekend, turned back the Salukis, whose top-seeded Sue Briggs missed the meet because of a classroom conflict. Miss Briggs is the No. 1 singles women's player in Illinois.

In the top singles match, SIUE's Patty Phillips, Belleville, turned back Marsha Bladel, one-and-one. The Cougars' No. 2 singles, Edwardsville's Pat Ziegenfuss won over Sue Cispay, 6-1, 6-1.

The Cougars' No. 3, Debbie Hirsch, lost a heartbreaker 7-5,

SPRINTING FOR THE BALL, around or through the defender, is GCHS South Warrior Rick Fernandez during South's 3-0 victory over Quincy Notre Dame at South Saturday morning. Temperatures in the low 40s failed to break the concentration of the Warrior soccer squad in its shutout victory.

Steelers dominate Quincy soccer team

Coach Robert Kehe's soccer Steelers posted their 11th shutout win of the season at home Saturday, defeating Quincy Notre Dame 4-0 on two goals each in the second and fourth periods.

GCHS North now has a 12-4-2 record. Steeler Cliff "Butch" Stefanoff opened the scoring with 17:30 remaining in the second period on a pass from Eric Thornburg.

Bob Yount scored unassisted after intercepting a Quincy pass with 15:21 left in the same period for a 2-0 North lead.

Yount assisted Bob Batley in fourth-quarter scoring with 10:56 remaining, and Yount passed off to Glen Edwards for the final goal with 5:50 left to play.

North attempted 16 shots on goal to the visitors' five. Cornerkicks were: North nine, Quincy none.

Fouls were: North eight, Quincy six. Steeler Goalie Mike Hill stopped two enemy shots from entering the net.

Cougar rally tops Air Force

In their last two games, the Cougar kickers of SIUE have seemed intent on following the script of the old time silent film, the "Perils of Pauline." On Saturday afternoon at Cougar Field, the SIUE soccer team had to rally to defeat the Air Force Academy Falcons, 2-1.

Three days earlier at the same site, the Cougars had to do the same thing to beat the University of Missouri-St. Louis Rivermen by one goal.

The victory over the Air Force ran the Cougars' record to 9-1-0 and may strengthen their hold on third place in national rankings behind first-place Clemson and Hartwick College.

Meanwhile, the Cougars' foe this week at SIUE, the 11th-ranked Quincy College Hawks, were beaten 2-1 by 15th-ranked

St. Louis University.

Coach Bob Guelker is happy that his Cougars were able to rally and beat the Air Force. After all, we had to start a lineup without veterans Gene Mishalow, Greg Makowski, Greg Villa and Tim Twellman, plus loss of Dave Hummert. The visitors scored first on a defensive lapse and it looked like they were going to be satisfied with a 1-0 victory.

Late in the first half, Guelker inserted Villa and Makowski into the lineup, but the Cougars still trailed at the half.

Chris Caceliore, who had been stymied in scoring until the UMSL game, tied it for the Cougars after a pass from John Zacheis at 55:44. Air Force had scored on a shot by midfielder Andy Krot at 6:05 into the game.

Bruising Greg Villa gave the Cougars' their winning margin with eight minutes (81:30) remaining in the game on a pass from Tim Holstein.

Cougar player in Davis Cup match

Arjun Fernando, No. 1 singles player on the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville tennis varsity, will play for his native Sri Lanka (formerly Ceylon) in Davis Cup competition against the Philippines this week at Manila.

Fernando flew from San Francisco Sunday. It will be his second appearance in Davis Cup competition; he made his debut as a 14-year-old two years ago.

playing No. 2 for Sri Lanka will be a former teammate of Fernando, Suresh Siggam, a sophomore matriculating at California's Pepperdine College. He was an alternate behind Fernando two years ago but didn't see action.

The current Davis Cup international competition is in its final phase as Spain meets Chile.

The American Iron and Steel Institute and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency have launched a joint project to attack one of the major sources of steel industry pollution—coke oven door emissions.

KIRKPATRICK BREAK-IN

A window pane was removed from the front door at the apartment of Linda Deserches, 3408 Kirkpatrick Homes, and the apartment was ransacked last week. Nothing was known to be missing.

controlling emissions from the ends of ovens.

Leakage of gases from the coke oven door, along with discharges of gases during charging, pushing and quenching operations, are the major sources of emissions in the coke making process.

Coke, which is made from metallurgical coal is charged into the blast furnace along with iron bearing materials and limestone to make pig iron.

The study is the third in a series of joint steel industry-government projects to develop effective coke oven emission control.

The AISI and EPA also sponsored a recently-completed $1,850,000 demonstration project at Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. designed to reduce emissions during the charging of coke ovens.

Battelle-Columbus recently completed a conceptual study of coke oven door leakage, jointly sponsored by the EPA and several steel companies, at a cost of $237,000. It led to the development and demonstration project now being launched by the EPA and AISI.

The first phase of the new study calls for the development up to fabrication, of a full-scale demonstration system.

A second phase, which will be at the option of the sponsors, would involve fabrication, installation and extended evaluation of the system in the field.

John G. Munson Jr., a member of AISI's Technical Committee on Coke Oven Practice and chairman of the Coke and Coal Chemical Operations Committee for United States Steel Corp., will serve as AISI project officer.

Robert C. McCrillis, of EPA's Industrial Environmental Research Laboratory, Research Triangle Park in North Carolina, will serve as the EPA project officer.

Albert O. Hoffman, associate section manager at Battelle-Columbus Laboratories, will be Battelle's project leader.

Levee district expects more flood relief funds

Reinstatement of $203,000 in flood disaster aid which had been rejected earlier for the East Side Levee and Sanitary District is expected by the district as the result of a new audit of sewer repair claims by agents of the Flood Disaster Assistance Agency, William J. Mike Ebersoldt of Venice, a member of the levee board, reported Friday.

Ebersoldt said the levee district officials have been told by FDAA officials that it expects reinstatement of the money, for which FDAA had asked be paid back by the district and that additional funds also are certain to be authorized.

According to Ebersoldt the district had claimed a total of $88,783 as reimbursement for money spent by the district in repairing sanitary sewers damaged by the spring flood in 1973.

Of this amount, FDAA originally authorized $68,129 in claims and made flood disaster aid payments of $45,936 to the district. This is approximately half of the amount originally claimed for reimbursement.

Later, Ebersoldt said, the FDAA cut back the amount of authorized allotments and told the district it had been overpaid by $203,162. The levee district was asked to repay this amount to the federal agency out of the $45,936 that had been allocated earlier.

Ebersoldt said Chief Clerk Helen Cristich went to Springfield and conferred there with representatives of the agency to request a new audit of levee district claims and an inspection of levee district facilities.

He said a new check of levee district for flood disaster aid was made by agents who also inspected the district's facilities and projects where sewer repair work was done.

It was on the basis of this investigation that assurances were given that the $203,000 for which repayment had been asked would be restored and that "additional money" could be expected, Ebersoldt said.

SIUE E. St. Louis center called inadequate; mission still imprecise

A first priority for the new president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville should be the determination of the future mission of the university in East St. Louis, according to an information report submitted to the SIUE Board of Trustees Thursday by the former SIUE acting president, Andrew J. Koehn.

The report on SIUE programs and activities in East St. Louis concludes that "the precise role that SIUE will play in East St. Louis must be carefully and clearly delineated," and "once the mission of the university has been enunciated, a proper administrative structure to support and facilitate this mission must be established."

The report, which was requested by the Board of Trustees, includes assessments of the major operational areas of East St. Louis programs and activities by the Offices of the Vice-President and Provost, Vice-President for Business Affairs and Vice-President for Student Affairs.

Critical of many aspects of the university's involvement in East St. Louis, the report states: "A basic principle that must be continuously observed in support of all university activities in East St. Louis is that of equality of means — whether these be physical facilities, personnel policies or services for students. Secondary efforts cannot be condoned or tolerated."

In regard to academic affairs, the report says the East St. Louis Center has not established "those policies, procedures and processes necessary to a coordinated and efficient operation."

"An absence of consensus on shifts in mission and resources has led to confusion and apprehension on the part of faculty, staff and students, resulting in considerable demoralization and program effectiveness."

Academic programs include the Experiment in High Education (EHE), established in 1966 with the assistance of a grant from the Office of Economic Opportunity, and the Performing Arts Training Center (PATC), which offers a multidisciplinary approach to arts training.

The PATC offers both credit and non-credit classes in the fields of performing arts, applied skills and humanities. In regard to the EHE, the report says the faculty appears competent and committed to the task, but no comprehensive evaluation of the effectiveness of the program exists, and physical and support facilities are inadequate.

Substantial differences within the East St. Louis Center over program direction, governance and personnel issues have reduced the effectiveness of EHE, the report says.

According to the report, PATC enjoys a deserved national and international reputation for its performance and training activities, but the internal business operations are independently administered and often violate established East St. Louis Center and university policies and procedures.

The center also has a unit called "Community Organization Public Affairs" (COPA), which has as a primary function assistance to the community in assessing needs and in determining solutions or alternatives. The report says effective mechanisms for carrying out the mission of COPA have not been established.

Regarding the physical facilities, the report states, "The Broadview facility which houses the East St. Louis Center is an inadequate structure. With the exception of the recently renovated seventh floor dance facility (at a cost of $125,000), the building's current condition is dysfunctional. It is old, antiquated, rodent-ridden and funeral in character."

Costs to operate the East St. Louis Center in fiscal year 1977, not including administrative costs of the Edwardsville campus, are budgeted at $1,000,371.

Current capital appropriations total $193,000 for renovating the fifth or sixth floor and improvements to central heating, air conditioning, plumbing and electrical distribution systems. The capital request for fiscal 1978 is $125,000.

In the area of student affairs, the report says, "The relationships between student services in East St. Louis and Edwardsville are unclear and ineffective. Staff involvement with Edwardsville programs is poor."

"Personnel in East St. Louis feel that their functions and efforts are not perceived as significant by the total university."

According to the report, the Student Development and Student Services unit at the East St. Louis Center relates poorly with the Edwardsville Student Affairs Office, "with personal relationships substituting for formal procedures."

"Problems in registering students persist. The Center experiences difficulties of information access and of the timely acquisition of needed material."

The report cites a 32-month study of the East St. Louis Health Service, which concludes: "There is no medical justification for the operation of a branch health service at the East St. Louis Center. Problems that arise can be handled by an emergency medical technician located in a first-aid station and supervised by the Edwardsville medical staff."

SIU opened a resident center in East St. Louis in 1958. In 1965, the university moved to the new Edwardsville campus, and the EHE program was initiated at East St. Louis the following year.

Later, the PATC and University Services to East St. Louis were established.

In 1973, a report to the Board of Trustees included the following paragraph:

"SIUE has maintained a commitment to the City of East St. Louis since the earliest days of the university's history. In recent years, the growth of operations at Edwardsville, the advent of State Community College, a trend toward tighter state budgets, and various other factors have combined to cloud the precise role and mission SIUE is to have in East St. Louis in the future."

The report submitted Thursday says the above paragraph remains applicable in 1976.

THE SCHERMER BULLETIN

Two more weeks and the Poston store will be open. We've been talking to our customers as to whether the new store will be "this store. The comments have been very interesting. The most typical of those who live closest to Poston comment is "if the service in the new store is as good as this one, otherwise we will still come to Madison."

We are sure going to try. Poston will be a real Schermers store.

Jackpot, Top Value Stamps, Double Days, etc. etc. The whole

"Shimmer". At least that's how we are planning it.

Last week we really hit the jackpot in our produce department.

While others were selling iceberg lettuce for 69¢ and up, Schermers had it 3 for $1.00. This means a cash saving of over $1.00 on just one item. These are the kinds of "special buys" that we really love to feature. We also had nice cauliflower at 3 for $1.00. Almost every week our produce department comes up with an outstanding feature and that's the name of that tune.

Labor backs Howlett University asks override of selective fund vetoes

Organized labor, representing 1.5 million Illinois workers, is solidly behind Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett in his campaign for governor, Louis F. Peick, general chairman of the All-Labor Committee for Howlett, says.

Rank-and-file members are helping union leadership mount a strong effort for Howlett, he added.

"Every day, we hear from more unions who have endorsed Howlett for governor by membership action," said Peick, a teamster union leader. The Illinois State Federation of Labor and Conference of Industrial Organizations (AFL-CIO), state central body representing 1.3 million members, has endorsed Howlett.

Powerful unions not affiliated with the AFL-CIO also have rallied behind Howlett's candidacy.

One of them, the United Auto workers, has endorsed Howlett and is putting funds and manpower into his campaign. Another independent, Teamsters Joint Council 25, representing 175,000 truck drivers and other workers in 29 Chicago area local unions has endorsed Howlett.

Downstate, Teamsters Joint Council 65, representing 50,000 workers of 84 counties in 13 locals, has endorsed Howlett. The DuPage County Federation of Labor, representing 23 local unions of more than 10,000 workers, has organized a telephone campaign and is urging each member in letters from local union officers to support Howlett.

The Chicago Federation of Labor, city central body of 450,000 AFL-CIO members, followed its March primary endorsement with a ringing endorsement for the Nov. 2 general election.

An information package aimed at convincing legislators that they should override Gov. Daniel Walker's selective vetoes of Southern Illinois University appropriations for fiscal year 1977 is being developed by a committee appointed on the Edwardsville campus by former Acting President Andrew J. Kochman. The SIU Board of Trustees on Thursday adopted a resolution urging the General Assembly to restore higher education funding as soon as possible to levels originally approved by the legislature in June.

The acting president said the SIU Board of Trustees on Thursday adopted a resolution urging the General Assembly to restore higher education funding as soon as possible to levels originally approved by the legislature in June.

The governor reduced the appropriations for higher education operations and grants by $24.1 million and the appropriations for higher education capital improvements by $53.3 million. According to the committee report submitted to the SIU board, "The group has begun to establish a frame of reference in which the vetoes can be addressed.

"This includes the accumulation and analysis of material pertaining to salaries, base budget erosion, needs for new and expanded programs — both general and health related — priorities for capital development and the financial crisis facing higher education in this state."

The committee has indicated the information package will relate to "the value and priority of general higher education funding; the mission, focus and clientele of SIUE and the special needs that derive therefrom; the general impact of the limited appropriations for this institution; and the programmatic effects of the budget reductions made by the governor."

The committee said information also is being coordinated on possible external sources of support, including alumni, organizations of public officials, union and management bodies, economic development groups, agricultural associations, teacher organizations and others.

The SIUE University Senate adopted a resolution Sept. 30 supporting Dr. Kochman in the override effort.

A resolution urging the Board of Trustees to exert every effort to bring about an override of the governor's vetoes of Senate Bill 1646 was adopted by the Faculty Senate of SIU at Carbondale on Oct. 12.

The Illinois Board of Higher Education and the president of the University of Illinois are among other groups and individuals going on record as favoring a legislative override of the governor's vetoes as they pertain to higher education. Jane Altes, acting assistant vice-president for academic programs, is chairperson of the SIUE legislative override committee.

Other members of the committee include the presidents of the University Senate, the Faculty Senate and the Student Senate; the chairman of the Non-Academic Employees Advisory Council; and a representative of the Graduate Student Organization, as well as representatives of the Office of the President, Office of the Legal Counsel and Office of the Acting Vice-President for Business Affairs.

Cost-saving suggestions encouraged

Major General Elvind H. Johansen, commander of the U.S. Army Aviation Systems Command (AVSCOM), has announced a special campaign to increase savings in doing federal business at his command.

AVSCOM's goal is to exceed all guidelines set down by higher headquarters for submission of suggestions by military and civilian employees in the new fiscal year.

In the fiscal year newly ended, AVSCOM employees offered suggestions and ideas which resulted in verified savings of nearly $1.6 million.

Command emphasis this year is on greater numbers of quality suggestions, stressing the need to improve on the quantity of ideas as well as monetary savings realized.

To help achieve this goal, Gen. Johansen has authorized three suggestion program campaigns, offering token awards to anyone at AVSCOM submitting a suggestion during the designated periods.

The first campaign is under way and will last through the end of October.

Two more special drives are planned for February and May next year.

A. O. SMITH DIVIDEND

The board of directors of A. O. Smith Corporation, meeting last week in Milwaukee, declared a regular quarterly dividend of 20 cents per share of common stock, payable Nov. 15 to shareholders of record Oct. 28.

Levitt departure recalls state's major shift in mental health care

LeRoy P. Levitt, M.D., has been appointed vice president for medical affairs at Mount Sinai Hospital Medical Center, Chicago. He was announced last week. He has also been appointed professor of psychiatry at Rush Medical College of Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center.

Dr. Levitt, director of the State of Illinois Department of Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities since March 1, 1973, will continue in his position until Dec. 1.

During his administration, the state's management of programs and services for drug abusers and alcoholics underwent a transformation, associates recall. The Illinois Drug Abuse Program was phased out, in favor of the Dangerous Drugs Commission, to seek greater utilization of resources.

Public drunkenness was decriminalized, and Dr. Levitt created a division of alcoholism under a superintendent who was charged with the formation of a statewide network of detoxification and alcoholic treatment program centers.

An achievement in which Dr. Levitt took great pride was his executive order, dated April 10, 1974, which wiped out "a long-standing tradition of patient labor under the guise of therapy."

In its place, he established a program of adaptive behavior training to help patients learn the everyday living skills important to their return to their homes or communities.

Other major activities of Dr. Levitt's administration were:

1. The opening of four new facilities: Henry Horner Children's Center located at the Chicago-Rush Mental Health Center; the Waukegan Developmental Center; the William A. Howe Developmental Center in Tinley Park; and the Chester Mental Health Center—a maximum security facility which replaced a century-old structure.

2. Increased facility accreditation by the Joint Commission on Hospital Accreditation from 13 in 1973 to 17 at present.
3. Increased departmental budget from $315.6 million in the 1972-73 fiscal year to $391.4 million budgeted for this fiscal year, an increase of 24 per cent over four fiscal years.

4. Improved patient-staff ratio from about five-to-one to the present one-to-one. Patient population declined from 16,063 in 1973 to 11,751 today. An excess of $50 million provided such items as modern plumbing, air conditioning, semi-private living quarters and other home-like features.

5. The production of a five-year plan setting forth the responsibilities of state and community components to achieve a desirable system for the delivery of quality mental health and developmental disabilities services.

6. A complete revision of the Mental Health Code, the basic document governing the management of care and treatment.

Prior to becoming director of the Illinois Department of Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities, Dr. Levitt served as dean of The Chicago Medical School from 1966 to 1973, and senior attending psychiatrist at the Mount Sinai Hospital Medical Center since 1963. He was originally on the hospital staff from 1949 to 1965.

Liberal studies degree planned

Authorization to offer the bachelor of liberal studies degree was granted Thursday to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville by the SIU

Board of Trustees, subject to approval by the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

University officers said during the meeting in East St. Louis that the degree program would not require additional resources.

General Studies would coordinate the advisement function in the program, and a committee of faculty from applicable departments would supervise the operation.

The Liberal Studies program would permit students to construct their own educational program within parameters of a specific academic discipline. Students in the program would be required to meet normal university hours requirements for graduation and for the General Studies program.

In addition, students would be required to take a minimum of 24 hours in each area of natural science, social science and humanities-fine arts and at least 80 hours at upper level, advanced courses.

University officers said student demand for the program would be one to three per cent of the total undergraduate enrollment. Estimated minimum enrollments at SIUE would be 25 students during the first year, growing to about 200 students by the fifth year.

Proponents of the program said it would meet the needs of at least four types of students: those undecided about career goals and desiring a program to help them make such decisions; those seeking education not necessarily related to career goals; those knowing what they want but desiring a non-traditional approach to education; and those wishing to utilize university resources to create a unique educational background not offered by traditional degrees.

Link between Nestle, community recalls a day in 1961

Installation of Plant Manager Roger A. Higgins as 1976-77 president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce calls attention to the relationship between this community and the Nestle Company, Incorporated.

Always a welcome member of the local industrial family, Nestle has been a special friend since Aug. 9, 1961, when a disastrous explosion destroyed the extracting department of the local plant, then a producer of instant coffee.

With both live and dead victims covered by an immense pile of rubble, a delicate, urgent task began, destined to continue for 14 and a half hours. The long vigil began in the warm afternoon, continued through the cool evening and on through a shivering night as rain drenched the cordoned-off rescue area.

Businesses and employ groups immediately volunteered their equipment and services after the explosion brought ambulances, police, firemen and other emergency personnel to the scene.

It was necessary to erect a barrier to hold back the heavy debris as cranes were used to build it ever higher, with other construction machines helping protect the search area from the mountainous accumulation. Rain and lightning added to the hazards.

All but those killed outright were reached and successfully treated.

The unselfish response by people of all walks of life in a time of need impressed Nestle officials, revealing as it did the character and concern of this deeply-caring, can-do community. Sometimes "sold short" or put down by persons who do not really know it, the Quad-City area showed its true colors when the sudden tragedy occurred.

Much of the plant was demolished and the worldwide company could have "walked away" from this area. But it built back, bigger and better, and the ultra-modern facilities now house the world's largest instant tea plant.

As Nestle and the Chamber of Commerce know, this is not "just another town" but a special, unique community — able to rise to any occasion, whether known or as unexpected as a never-to-be-forgotten day in August.

Says no way to equalize work, staff

To the Editor:
The United States Postal Service was made a quasi-government corporation in 1970. The law which established this corporation gave it authority to unionize the same as private industry with one exception — the right to strike.

The National Labor Agreement, which, started immediately with the corporate structure, has provisions which are above and beyond anything in the private sector, such as no-layoff.

Also, when labor disagrees with management's decisions, management cannot act. The decisions must go to arbitration.

The Postal Service is responsible to no one for its expenditures. Any deficit must be paid by the taxpayers. The salary structures which the U.S. Postal Service set for itself for management and labor have a ceiling of $63,000. A large number of management officers receive salaries which far exceed those of senators and congressmen. The Post Office labor force receives salaries which far exceed those for government employees. Prior to the formation of the postal corporation, these were comparable.

The total subsidy for the current fiscal year is $1.5 billion, plus an estimated deficit of $1.4 billion, representing a total amount the taxpayers have to shell out annually, plus the price of stamps.

Overstaffing and idle hours in the Postal Service are now a way of life. The law requires eight hours' work for eight hours' pay in other agencies. The union contract which the Postal Service negotiates with itself supersedes the law of the land. The financial problems in the Postal Service have been created because of this agreement.

Excessive increase in postage has caused a decrease in mail volume. Many of the major means are now finding alternative means in lieu of paying this price.

The no-layoff provision in the contract leaves a fixed number of work force with a decrease in mail volume. Postal employees receive high pay for doing nothing.

Unless the attrition rate equals the workload decreases, the imbalance between the manhours and the workload will continue. The no-layoff clause does not permit management to reduce the work force to correct the imbalance.

An effective work measurement system has been eliminated, and each office is permitted to set its own work time of imbalance. Efficiency and economy in the operation of the Postal Service under this are impossible.

The upper management has committed various acts to shield this truth from the public. Hearings before the subcommittee of Congress when properly reviewed will clearly identify the fabrications.

How can Congress or the President ignore this when conduct of a similar nature in the executive branch of the government brought about the removal of the President of this nation?

The investigative arm of Congress, known as the General Accounting Office, has presented reports and testimony which are absolute fabrications. Documents proving these fabrications are in the hands of Congress.

For Congress to use these reports while in the process of preparing legislation for laws to govern this nation is a shameful act.

The need to refer this to the Justice Department for a depth probe is of the utmost importance, if our government and the nation's business are to function properly.

The board of governors and the entire upper management of the Postal Service should be held responsible and accountable for the multi-billion-dollar waste.

I invite everyone interested in an efficient U.S. Postal Service to write their congressman and make their views known.

CARLTON G. BEALL
Retired Washington, D.C. Postmaster

Urgent that all cast ballot on Nov. 2

To the Editor:
It is urgent that all registered citizens go to the polls and vote on Nov. 2.

Citizens of Madison County, especially in Madison, Venice and Eagle Park Acres, the time is drawing near to speak and be heard.

We can be heard by voting and using the mighty "X" as our weapon. Regardless of what party we like or dislike, let's vote.

Citizens, you are somebody. You will be heard on Nov. 2, and the candidates will know it. Let's quit living on promises with no progress. Let's vote our own convictions. Let's take heed and wake up now.

Let freedom ring by sounding the bells of liberty with votes. We have our chance to be heard, and we must be heard.

Some marched to vote and some barked injuries just to vote. Let's vote Nov. 2 because we have a right to do so.

JOHN HENRY WILLIAMS
President
Madison Branch
National Association for the Advancement of Colored People

Life and death valid campaign issues

To the Editor:
Please print these thoughts for the Willow resident who can't "understand why some of the candidates will know it."

That most vital issue is the baby. When a candidate refuses to be concerned with the rights of this most helpless segment of our country, he won't be concerned about you or me when we are helpless, poor, sick and in need. His attitude toward the unborn child would make decisions in other areas as well.

The helpless need our help; the voiceless need our voices. We must work to protect their basic right — their right to life.

A LOCAL PRO-LIFER

Book outlines history of this area

To the Editor:
My family and I have just read "Old Six Mile" by Georgia Engleke. I was lucky to have had time to read it in one sitting.

The rest of my family could only read it a chapter at a time due to their work schedules. I might add that they hated to have to put it down. My friends who have made Granite City their home town — I refer to my German-born friends — have been thrilled to learn of the historical heritage of their town.

Their eyes were enlightened along with quite a number of citizens who were born here, to learn of the extensive history of our area.

I refer to my family and I appreciate what Mrs. Engleke has done to broaden our education regarding our very own community.

To the Editor:
A solution to the traffic problem on Nameoki Road from Madison Avenue to Ponton Road is simple and inexpensive.

Three words posted at all intersections and entrances will speed the flow of traffic and facilitate ingress-egress to shopping centers within the defined area. "No left turn."

Drivers who find left turns necessary because of direction of travel will merely need to learn a new route.

Think about it. MARVIN R. LAMBERT

GOES THROUGH FENCE
Becky Needham, 19, Springfield, Mo. was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 10:30 a.m. Friday after the brakes of her car failed and went through a fence, according to reports.

She suffered multiple injuries and was transferred to Firms Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

STAL TELEVISION
A color television was stolen during a burglary at the home of John Perdue, 1625 rear Market St., Madison, who was discovered at 4:45 p.m. Thursday. Entry was believed gained by crawling through the kitchen window.

CYCLIST INJURED
Simon Eastep Jr., 21, of 2209 Miralva Ave., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 5 p.m. Friday suffering a fractured lower leg. A motorcycle Eastep was riding collided near Morrison and Maryville roads with a pickup truck driven by William Umek, 4748 Warnock Ave.

STATION WAGON TAKEN
The creme-colored 1974 Chevrolet Vega station wagon of Earl Christian, St. Louis, was stolen from the 2000 block of Washington Avenue between 11:10 p.m. Friday and 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

The woodgrain sides and a luggage rack. There is damage around the front headlight.

STAL Stereo
A $219 stereo unit was the only missing item missing after a burglary at Feder and Huber Furniture Co., Niedringhaus and Delmar avenues, between 5:30 p.m. Friday and 8:30 a.m. Saturday. Two north window panes were removed to gain entry. Another turntable was left by the window where entry was gained.

Smith earnings, sales improve

A. O. Smith Corporation on Thursday reported improved sales and earnings for the third quarter and first nine months, compared with the same periods in 1975. L. B. Smith, chairman and chief executive officer, said.

In the third quarter, sales of continuing operations were $140.3 million with profits of $11,000,000, or 23 cents per share, compared with sales of $112.9 million and earnings of $5,000,000, or 11 cents per share, in the same period last year.

For the first nine months, sales of continuing operations were $407,000,000 with earnings of $11,975,000, or $2.45 per share, compared with 1975 nine months sales of $331,300,000 and profits of $7,000,000, or 18 cents per share.

A. O. Smith's investment in Mexico was affected by the recent peso devaluation, resulting in a profit reduction of $250,000 in the third quarter. A further profit reduction of $700,000 is expected in the fourth quarter because of the peso devaluation, Smith said.

In addition, Smith said a reappraisal of the elevator business disposition — loss reserves, including the effect of the sale of Armco Canada, Ltd., on Aug. 31, had a $1,155,000 favorable impact on the quarter and is reported as a profit from discontinued operations.

The combination of earnings from continuing operations and profit from discontinued operations resulted in a total third-quarter profit of $2,260,000, or 46 cents a share.

Call Pontoon meetings on treasurer issue

The issue of whether actions of Floyd David Moss, president of the Pontoon Beach Village Board, in firing Village Treasurer Loretta Skinner from her post are official will be discussed during two special meetings of the board this week.

The village trustees have called a special meeting for Tuesday to discuss whether Moss' action is official or whether board concurrence is necessary to fire an official.

Moss has called a special meeting for 6 p.m. Wednesday to appoint a new treasurer and to seek the board's concurrence in the appointment.

Moss said he feels village ordinance "one gives him the authority to appoint a new temporary treasurer without board approval until such time as the board is willing to concur on a new permanent treasurer."

Moss wrote a letter to Mrs. Skinner after Thursday's Village Board meeting, informing her "you are discharged from your duties as treasurer immediately" and citing state and village ordinances as the reasons for the dismissal.

That dismissal is under protest by several board members, including Mrs. Skinner's husband, Trustee Duane Skinner.

Five hurt in auto crash

Five persons were injured when the auto of Paul Schreiber, 25, of 2112 Miralva Ave., and Randy D. Tolliver, 1629 Edison Ave., collided in the 1500 block of St. Clair Avenue and went into the fence in the yard of Berto Cerretti, 3028 Marshall Ave., at 12:35 a.m. Sunday.

Police were unable to determine the cause of the accident, but said it appeared the autos were side by side when they swerved suddenly to the right into the fence.

Schreiber was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital with abrasions to his left knee and the left side of his neck, but he declined treatment.

Vernon Ryan, 22, of 4737 Warnock Ave., a passenger in Tolliver's car, was taken by ambulance to the hospital, but he declined treatment.

Sharon DeMott, 22, of 2240 Washington Ave., a passenger in Tolliver's car, was taken by ambulance to the hospital, but he declined treatment.

Ned Tapp Jr., 23, of 2433 Kilarney Drive, another passenger in Tolliver's car, was taken by ambulance to the hospital and said he had back pain and no feeling in his arms and legs. He also said he was hurt to his head. He was transferred to Firms Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

The other passenger, Robin Maxwell, 16, of 4538 Nameoki Road, suffered a head injury, but declined to be treated.

Miss Diane Gaines, 20, of 2805 Yale Ave., was injured in an auto accident at Yale Avenue and Fehling Road at 7 a.m. Sunday and was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital with a broken right arm.

She was a passenger in the auto of Timothy Carney, 2418 E. 24th St., which failed to negotiate a curve on Fehling Road and struck a tree at the home of Roger Juergensen, 2945 Benton St.

Carney was charged with failure to have valid registration for his car.

Levee board to meet Tuesday

The East Side Levee and Sanitary District board will hold a special meeting at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the district offices at East St. Louis.

The special session will be held to approve the semi-monthly payroll.

State economic group will meet

Paul McCracken, president chairman of the Economic Council of Economic Advisors, will be the featured speaker at the sixth annual meeting of the Illinois Economic Development Council, Friday and Saturday at the Breckenridge Pavilion Hotel in St. Louis.

Stanford Levin, assistant professor of economics at SIUE and a member of the state group, said the association is interested in promoting "interaction between four-year colleges, community colleges and area businesses."

This year's program includes papers from economists throughout Illinois and neighboring states. The banquet Friday night will feature an address by McCracken.

McCracken received his Ph.D. degree from Harvard. He is currently an Edmund Ezra Day University professor of business at the University of Michigan.

Some of the topics to be discussed by the area economists are: economic policies for regulated industries, evaluation of contemporary monetary policy, natural resources and land as economic weapons, and economics of health.

Those interested in registering to attend the sessions are welcome, according to Levin. Registration is $15, and students can register for $3. The charge for attending the banquet to hear McCracken speak at 8:30 p.m. Friday is $15.

Meeting reservations are being handled by the office of the secretary-treasurer of the Illinois Economic Association, Northern Illinois University, 627 W. Lincoln Highway, DeKalb.

LOOT MOTOR HOME

Items with a total value of about $410 were stolen from the motor home of Thomas J. Papp Sr., 3520 Pine St., parked at his home between 5:45 p.m. Friday and 2 p.m. Saturday. The right window was forced open to gain entry. Taken were a stereo, a citizens' band antenna, a fire extinguisher and a tool box and tools.

IN INTENSIVE CARE

Ann Amace, 33, 2631 Madison Ave., was admitted to the intensive care unit of St. Elizabeth Hospital at 6:05 p.m. Saturday after being injured in an auto accident near Belleville. She suffered a head injury, a fractured right forearm and left wrist and a bruise to her nose and was brought here by ambulance from Belleville.

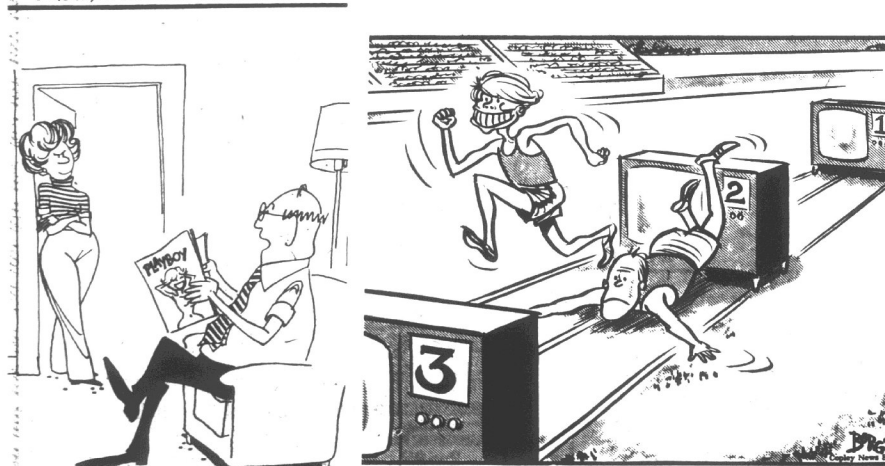

RANSACKS BEDROOM

The master bedroom at the home of Delores Simpson was found at 6:15 p.m. Thursday to have been ransacked and an article of clothing had been set on fire and dropped on the floor. There was only minor damage. Nothing was known to be missing. Entry was believed gained by crawling through an open window.

CHILD IS INJURED

Cynthia Rodgers, 9, Edwardsville, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 5:18 p.m. Saturday when the car in which she was riding was involved in an accident. She suffered a neck injury.

board to meet in special session next Monday, Oct. 25, to discuss the interview process. Elliott said it may be necessary to change the date to allow for a satisfactory time for the candidates.

Foster, 41, has been dean of the faculty and dean of the Graduate School at Southeastern Massachusetts University, North Dartmouth, Mass., since 1972. He is married and has two children.

Maier, 48, is a professor of science and environmental change and of environmental administration at the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay. He served as vice-chancellor of the university from 1969 to 1975. He is married and has three children.

Shaw, 38, is vice-president and dean of the college and associate professor of sociology at Towson State College, Baltimore, Md.

He was named to his present position in 1970 after serving three years as acting dean of the college. Shaw is married and has three children.

On-campus interviews with the finalists for the position were begun by the Search Committee Sept. 22 and were completed Oct. 13.

Each candidate spent two and a half days of intensive touring and interviewing with administrators, faculty, staff, students, alumni and representatives of various other constituencies.

Chairman W. Deane Wiley said all persons attending the constituency interviews were requested to submit an evaluation form to a member of the committee at the end of each interview session. He emphasized that the forms were not considered as ballots.

Following the last interview, the committee met last Wednesday night and agreed on the recommendation delivered to the board the next day.

"We very much appreciate the cooperation of the university community," Chairman Wiley said. "Everyone has worked tirelessly to assist us and to make the process fair and equitable."

Guidelines for the Search Committee were approved by the board in March.

Nominations and applications for the position totaled 23, and the committee began screening the candidates May 11, reducing the number to 13. The 13 were invited to Lambert Field in St. Louis for interviews in July and August, and the number of candidates was further reduced to six.

On-site visits of the six candidates' places of employment were completed Sept. 14 by subcommittees of the Search Committee.

Letters with information about the candidates were sent to all members of the university community, urging them to attend the constituency interviews beginning Sept. 22.

In addition to Dr. Wiley, the members of the Search Committee and the constituencies they represent were:

Eldon Bigham, Student Affairs Executive Committee; Daniel Gonczy, Non-Academic Employees Advisory Council; Johneta Haley, representative at-large; Margaret Hunt, Student Senate.

Donald Myer, Faculty Senate; Pete Nasir, Student Senate; Ethel Rains, Business Affairs Executive Committee; Betty Richardson, Faculty Senate; Maurine Sampson, Student Senate; David Werner, Deans Conference; and Rudolph Wilson, Faculty Senate.

Assisting the Search Committee has been the Constituency Head Conference, which conferred on the processes developed for recommending presidential candidates. The members of the Conference are:

Steve Sanders, University Senate; David Brown, Faculty Senate; Charles E. Stokes, Student Affairs Executive Committee; John Ulrich, Non-Academic Employees Advisory Council; James Metcalfe, Business Affairs Executive Committee; Warren Stoskey, Alumni Association; Laura Ricci, Student Senate; and Hollis White, Deans Conference.

CHECKS ARE FORGED Two personal checks, stolen from the home of Britton Knight, 1383 Norwood Drive, during a burglary Oct. 10, were forged and cashed for $75 each in St. Louis, Britton was informed Saturday.

VEHICLE STOLEN

The station wagon of Sam Dymas, 805 Greenwood St., Madison, was stolen from the parking lot at K-M-W on Nameoki Road, between 8 p.m. and 9 p.m. Thursday. The station wagon was recovered by Madison County sheriff's deputies early Sunday.

Moss said he intends to bring the ordinance up for second reading and a final passage vote at the next meeting Oct. 21, but there is doubt the ordinance will pass, since some officials, including at least one of those normally opposing Moss, said he plans to vote against it.

Buses

two weeks ago from New York, where they were custom-built to meet the stringent requirements of the Illinois Department of Transportation, coordinator of the grant to Illinois for the Urban Mass Transportation Administration.

According to Jeffery Thoman, transportation coordinator of the bus service, the specifications include safety features designed specifically for elderly and disabled persons.

"For example, on three of the four mini-buses there are special hydraulic lifts with a design feature to insure that the bed of the lift cannot return to its driving position until the passenger has been safely secured in the special wheelchair restraints," Thoman said.

Passengers reserve rides in the vehicles by contacting their local senior citizens' center. Students at SUE who qualify for the service are to contact Supporting Services at 692-3100 to make reservations.

"It is important that potential riders understand that this is not a taxi service but rather an additional means of transportation to add to any other source of transportation they now use," Thoman said.

Those qualifying to use the service should make reservations at least 24 hours in advance so bus routes can be coordinated to save on operational expenses, he added.

"The vehicles are designed and drivers are trained to make people using them as comfortable as possible," Thoman said. He added that a key part of the training involves teaching the drivers to be sensitive to the special needs of many of the potential riders.

"All drivers, whether they are volunteers or employees, are required to go through a thorough training program."

"They are trained in CPR (cardio-pulmonary resuscitation) and given a review of the rules of the road. We also try to give drivers an understanding of the entire program and how their particular duties fit in with the project."

Japanese steelmakers claim most of U. S. import market

Japan's share of foreign steel mill product exports to the United States reached 60 per cent through the first eight months of this year, according to new government data.

This compares to a 50 per cent Japanese share of the U.S. import market in the first eight months of 1974, and a 40 per cent share in the first eight months of 1973.

Imports of Japanese steel in August increased 63 per cent over August of last year to 639,000 tons, raising the eight-month total from Japan to 5,285,000 tons, a gain of 24 per cent over the same 1975 period.

Japanese imports are coming into U.S. ports at a record rate and, if the trend continues, they will reach nearly eight million tons for the full year.

Steel imports from all countries in August totaled 1,201,000 tons, an increase of 63 per cent over August of last year and a gain of nine per cent over July's 1,190,000 tons.

Through the first eight months of this year, steel imports from all countries totaled 8,773,000 tons; a gain of four per cent over imports of 8,442,000 tons in the same 1975 period.

The declared value of steel mill product imports through the end of August this year stood at $2.47 billion. Exports of 1,883,000 tons had a declared value of $87.2 million, resulting in a U.S. steel trade deficit of $1.62 billion for the first eight months.

Stainless steel imports continued at high levels during the month, reaching 17,000 tons, or 17.9 per cent of apparent domestic consumption.

Pig iron imports in August decreased 34 per cent to 16,825 tons.

The play will be 8 p.m. on both nights.

pressure and temperature are so high you can't keep an excavation open. At a pressure of about 10 kilobars (150,000 pounds a square inch) — that's something over 30 kilometers or over 18 miles deep in the earth — all the pores or cavities of solid rock close and the hole would squeeze shut.

"There's no way you can maintain a cavity or hole in the earth deeper than that. That's the absolute limit. I doubt you could ever send an instrument down even that far," the Press-Record was advised.

"We'll never reach the deep earth — that is, anything below 10 miles. It would be impossible to get anything down below that."

How deep beneath the earth have people walked around? Or drilled?

"The farthest that man has gone down into the earth is in the deepest mines," Goldsmith says. "A few miles."

According to the Guinness Book of Records, the deepest mine is 12,600 feet deep or two and a half miles. It's in South Africa and attained that depth in May 1975.

"The deepest hole is an oil well," he says. "It's about 25,000 feet down or nearly five miles. It's possible they may be able to drill deeper. But not a great deal."

Temperatures and pressures in the deep earth can melt and crush the strongest steel and hardest rock as quickly as a marshmallow.

But this doesn't stop scientists like Goldsmith and Robert Newton, who is also a professor in the university's Department of Geophysical Sciences, from striving to add, year by year, to mankind's knowledge of the deep earth and how it got to be that way.

They have created subterranean-like conditions in the high-temperature, high-pressure laboratory in which they study rocks and minerals thrust up from the deep earth by volcanic eruptions.

Nothing was known missing after a burglary at Lake School, E. 23rd Street and Route 162, between 10 p.m. Friday and 1:35 p.m. Saturday. Teachers and authorities were conducting an inventory today.

A three-foot square window was broken from a doorway at the north end of the hall to gain entry. Windows in four classrooms also were broken. Several lockers were searched and melted popcicles were dropped in several halls.

The exit door from Room 151 was opened and left open with several items placed near the door, including a language development kit and some empty snack bags.

"The rocks are fragments of the earth's upper mantle, that is, of the portion of the earth underlying the crust at depths of up to 300 kilometers," Newton says.

"We synthesize or put together atoms of different kinds of minerals at high temperatures and high pressures to simulate conditions in the earth to depths of 300 kilometers (186 miles). Temperatures there are about 1,500 degrees centigrade and 100,000 atmospheres (1.5 million pounds a square inch)."

"Our main purpose is to interpret the conditions under which the mineral deposits and rocks formed, so that we can learn more about the history of the earth."

A secondary consideration is the knowledge of how to synthesize useful mineral substances such as abrasives and refractories.

Although Illinoisans can't probe 10 miles under the ground, they are gradually learning more and more about the interior of the earth from the deductions of scientific detectives such as Goldsmith and Newton.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Stop stolen car, arrest two youths

A routine license check by Granite City Patrolman Terry May of a car driving in the West Granite City area at 3:10 a.m. Friday led to the recovery of a stolen car and the arrests of two youths in it.

May's check indicated the car had been stolen at Pinckneyville, Ill., so he called for assistance and officers arrested Everett "Timmy" Hughes, 18, of 2901 Circle Drive, who was said to be the driver, and Charf Lloyd, 17, of Pinckneyville, said to have been a passenger. Each was charged with a felony count of theft.

Pinckneyville police alleged the auto was stolen from James Stevenson of that city between Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Hughes and Lloyd pleaded innocent to the charges and were released on $500 each. They were taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

Seek foster homes here for teenagers

The Illinois Department of Children and Family Services is continuing its recruitment campaign in the Madison, St. Clair, Monroe and Randolph County areas to find foster parents for teenagers who, for one reason or another, are unable to live with their natural families.

IDCFS field offices include 1306 Johnson Road in St. Louis. There is a sufficient number of foster homes for younger children but currently need an additional 60 foster home beds in order to adequately care for the teenagers which are under its guardianship.

Many department social workers feel that the various communities are unwilling to care for adopted foster children, according to Tom Kircher, social service program planner, in the department's East St. Louis area. Kircher, the department has consistently had a greater number of teens to be placed than appropriate homes available since 1970.

In addition to the need for foster parents, the department also is searching for "boarding houses" and roommate situations where older adolescents may reside while paying board directly to the owners.

The main requirements for foster homes are flexibility, concern, patience and understanding, according to Kircher. Foster parents may be 21, but not more than this requirement, they may be from almost any age group.

Some teens may stay with their foster parents for relatively short periods of time. Others may stay until they own families or until they enter an independent living situation.

In any case, the department pays foster parents a fee for each child. The fee will vary with the age and needs of the foster child and is intended to cover the child's board, clothing and incidental expenses.

Medical and dental expenses incurred by foster children are also paid by the state.

Prospective foster parents will be invited to attend a group meeting of applicants. Before becoming a foster parent, a person must be licensed.

The licensing process consists primarily of attendance at a group meeting, a series of interviews with an agency social worker, a medical examination, good references and a sentence of a series of training sessions.

Area residents interested in becoming foster parents or adolescents may reside while paying board directly to the owners.

Some teens may stay with their foster parents for relatively short periods of time. Others may stay until they own families or until they enter an independent living situation.

In any case, the department pays foster parents a fee for each child. The fee will vary with the age and needs of the foster child and is intended to cover the child's board, clothing and incidental expenses.

Medical and dental expenses incurred by foster children are also paid by the state.

Prospective foster parents will be invited to attend a group meeting of applicants. Before becoming a foster parent, a person must be licensed.

The licensing process consists primarily of attendance at a group meeting, a series of interviews with an agency social worker, a medical examination, good references and a sentence of a series of training sessions.

Area residents interested in becoming foster parents or adolescents may reside while paying board directly to the owners.

The main requirements for foster homes are flexibility, concern, patience and understanding, according to Kircher. Foster parents may be 21, but not more than this requirement, they may be from almost any age group.

Stop stolen car, arrest two youths

A routine license check by Granite City Patrolman Terry May of a car driving in the West Granite City area at 3:10 a.m. Friday led to the recovery of a stolen car and the arrests of two youths in it.

May's check indicated the car had been stolen at Pinckneyville, Ill., so he called for assistance and officers arrested Everett "Timmy" Hughes, 18, of 2901 Circle Drive, who was said to be the driver, and Charf Lloyd, 17, of Pinckneyville, said to have been a passenger. Each was charged with a felony count of theft.

Pinckneyville police alleged the auto was stolen from James Stevenson of that city between Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Hughes and Lloyd pleaded innocent to the charges and were released on $500 each. They were taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

Seek foster homes here for teenagers

The Illinois Department of Children and Family Services is continuing its recruitment campaign in the Madison, St. Clair, Monroe and Randolph County areas to find foster parents for teenagers who, for one reason or another, are unable to live with their natural families.

IDCFS field offices include 1306 Johnson Road in St. Louis. There is a sufficient number of foster homes for younger children but currently need an additional 60 foster home beds in order to adequately care for the teenagers which are under its guardianship.

Many department social workers feel that the various communities are unwilling to care for adopted foster children, according to Tom Kircher, social service program planner, in the department's East St. Louis area. Kircher, the department has consistently had a greater number of teens to be placed than appropriate homes available since 1970.

In addition to the need for foster parents, the department also is searching for "boarding houses" and roommate situations where older adolescents may reside while paying board directly to the owners.

The main requirements for foster homes are flexibility, concern, patience and understanding, according to Kircher. Foster parents may be 21, but not more than this requirement, they may be from almost any age group.

A&P Assistant Managers wear Red Vests. That's one way to spot them. But their eager helpfulness also identifies them. They're proud of the great values they've come up with for this week's Assistant Manager's Sale. Look for Red Vest values all through the store!

A&P's Great Meats!

Now, with our new transparent trays, you can see both sides of the meat before you buy it, and the meat stays neat, because the tray will not soften, break or leak. We go through a lot to bring you what we think is the best in meat, and this new tray helps keep it that way.
